Sentence Sermons

We can't make Jesus mean anything to others until He means everything to us.

In most cases, the "ity's" (charity, purity, humility, liberality, etc) lead us down the right path, while the "ism's" (racism, egoism, humanism, hedonism, denominationalism) are a sure path to hell.

I was not put here to "find myself," but rather to serve God (Ecc 12:13).

The way a Christian lives should separate himself from everyone else.

Your daily life is the only true testimony of your religion.

Many people who "know the lingo" don't know the Lord.

A nominal Christian (if such a term may be rightfully employed) is one who follows Jesus so long as the Master's teachings do not infringe upon his life's practices.

We'll never truly consider the lost until we stop considering the cost.

We'll never get others to see the joy of claiming Christ until we get ourselves to see the joy of proclaiming Christ.

Think of your own sins, and you will become more understanding of the sins of others.

Only those who are ready to die are ready to live.

To handle yourself, use your head; to handle others, use your heart.

Learn from others' mistakes; you can't live long enough to make them all yourself.
